Specialists in School Group Travel

Travel Design International is a boutique travel agency with a dedicated and experienced team focused on service. Our committed team are specialists in Group Travel and we understand the complex needs and requirements of school and corporate groups.

The handpicked and highly qualified team at Travel Design International (TDI) has been built with two key qualities in mind; passion and experience. These qualities are precisely what sets TDI apart. Each and every member of the team brings a wealth of experience and a dedicated passion for travel.

Arranging school group tours (particularly international trips or tours) can be a stressful process. They require months of planning, detailed knowledge on destinations, transport, hotels, visa processes as well as an ability to bring the learning and curriculum in the class room to life.

Working in partnership with a travel agency who specialises in school group travel will help ensure the trip runs smoothly and creates the freedom for teachers and students to focus on the experience itself.

Whatever your curriculum or what destination you want to travel, our professional, caring and informed team can ensure the success of your tour. Our professional team take the time and go above and beyond to understand the outcome that your group wants to achieve. We will come and meet with you one-on-one in order to comprehensively understand the unique needs of your trip, and then we get to work developing a bespoke group trip which fits your requirements.

There is no booking too large or too small for our team and we are a one stop shop for flights, accommodation, tours, activities, insurances, visas, transfers, car hire and everything you would expect from a group tour specialist.

Some recent examples of group tours we have developed for our clients include:

- › Religious pilgrimages and group tours which incorporate volunteer or social awareness activities
- › Specialised music tour where school orchestras and bands performed at some of the most incredible concert halls in Eastern Europe
- › LOTE (Languages Other Than English) trips with a focus on history, culture and speaking the native language, including home stays (Italy, France, Spain, China)
- › Sporting tours through Europe, USA, Asia and NZ which allow students to play against local schools
- › STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) tour of USA with a visit to the Kennedy Space Centre
- › Arts and History tours

If you have an idea of a destination or a theme that you believe will bring out the best in your students, the group consultants at TDI will work with you to turn this into a reality. TDI can create itineraries that support the students curriculum needs and also provide a once in a lifetime experience.

How a Travel Design International trip works

1

PLANNING

The planning stage is an integral part of the process and TDI are there with you every step of the way. Your dedicated consultant will come out and sit with you one on one to discuss your tour objectives. Using our experience we create a tour that meets your curriculum goals, engages your students and creates life long memories.

DUTY OF CARE

The safety of our groups is paramount to everything we do at TDI. We perform a duty of care on all student accommodation and we have operators across the world who have their finger on the pulse and provide on-the-ground support. We will ensure your group has an authentic experience while keeping safety of your students and teachers front of mind.

3

COMMUNICATION

We at TDI believe communication is vital for a successful trip, we are available to you via phone and email throughout the whole process. All aspects of your trip will be clearly communicated with you so there are no surprises. We are also happy to support schools with detailed itineraries, handouts and attend parent information nights.

4

DEPARTURE

We are there to see you off at the airport and ensure your check-in is hassle free. Once you have departed you will have TDI's 24 hour emergency contact number as well as on-the-ground support at your location.

Why travel with Travel Design International?

Numerous schools and sporting groups have chosen TDI as their preferred travel agency. Here are some of the reasons why:

- › One dedicated consultant who is with you from the initial planning through to seeing you off at the airport
- › We create bespoke tours, built just for you, to meet your individual curriculum needs
- › We act as an extension of your team – source multiple suppliers, compare airlines and hotels, help you choose experiences and then produce all the itinerary documentation for parents and students and can even present at information nights
- › Experienced, passionate and friendly staff
- › Exclusive discounts with Virgin and Qantas
- › No booking is too big or too small
- › Dedicated to student safety, 24 hour call support and on-the-ground support when travelling.

"We have been using Travel Design International for a number of years now and have found the company to be excellent in all aspects of travel arrangements. Being a school environment, there are a number of last minute changes that take place beyond our control, however nothing is too much to handle for the friendly staff at Travel Design. I would highly recommend Travel Design International to any company or school for all their travel needs".
